Globalising Food: Agrarian Questions and Global Restructuring

In an increasingly global world, societies are being provisioned from a bewildering array of sources as new countries and new food commodities are drawn into international markets. Globalising Food provides an innovative contribution to the area of political economy of agriculture, food and consumption through a revealing investigation of the globalisation and restructuring of localised agricultural sectors and food systems.

The book draws on new theoretical perspectives and wide-ranging case studies from Britain, the USA, India, South Africa, New Zealand and Latin America. The key themes addresses range from giant multinational food corporations, rural industrialisation and World Bank policies, to the regulation of pollution, labour relations, urban food politics and environmental sustainability. Globalising Food offers important insights into the problems, consequences and limits of the industrialisation of agriculture and the provisioning of food in a global world as we approach the new millenium.

Sylvia Ferland:

As a student exactly feel bored in order to reading. If their teacher expected them to go to the library or to make summary for some publication, they are complained. Just little students that has reading's spirit or real their hobby. They just do what the instructor want, like asked to the library. They go to right now there but nothing reading critically. Any students feel that studying is not important, boring and can't see colorful photographs on there. Yeah, it is to be complicated. Book is very important in your case. As we know that on this period of time, many ways to get whatever we want. Likewise word says, ways to reach Chinese's country. So , this Globalising Food: Agrarian Questions and Global Restructuring can make you truly feel more interested to read.
