A woman in pain.

Everybody looks down their nose at her, but nobody knows what really happened.

After struggling in silence for seven years, Noémi Casson has booked herself on a sexual healing retreat. She hopes to find herself, not find love. A relationship with a man miles out of her league is the last thing this wounded girl wants.

David is convinced that his love is all the healing Noémi needs.

Noémi is convinced that David must be delusional.

As Noémi allows God to work on her, she begins to see herself and her problems in a new light. But just when all seems to be going well the unthinkable happens, and Noémi doesn't know whether to focus on saving her relationship with David or saving herself. Will she learn to trust God's purpose, or will she give in to the temptation to do things her own way?
